Jaffa Lam (b. 1973, Fujian, China)
Lives and works in Hong Kong

Jaffa Lam is a sculptor specializing in large-scale, site-specific sculptures and installations, which are primarily made using recycled materials. She is interested in nonverbal conversations and dialogues exploring issues related to local history, culture and current affairs. Her work explores the importance of public art and themes such as loss, the revival of traditional craftsmanship, and the life cycle of human beings and objects, capturing seemingly trivial human stories in the greater flow of history.

Lam has been involved in various public art and community projects in Hong Kong and internationally, including the Fukutake House Project of the Setouchi Triennale (2013), Setouchi; Hong Kong Week (2015) in Taiwan MOCA; China 8_ New Figuration – Narrative Sculpture (2015), Lehbruck Museum, Duisberg; A New Dynasty- Created in China (2015), AoS Aarhus Art Museum, Aarhus; Wuzhen International Contemporary Art Exhibition (2016), Wuzhen and Lyon Lumières (2018), Lyon; 2020 Women Artists International Biennial of Macau, Macau. Lam received the Désirée and Hans Michael Jebsen Fellowship from the Asian Cultural Council in 2006. In 2010, Perspective magazine included her in their 40 UNDER 40 list, recognising the next generation of design talent. She was awarded the Secretary for Home Affairs Commendation Scheme as a result of her long-term contributions to the promotion of art and culture.

Lam currently serves as the Academic Head of Hong Kong Art School and Chairperson of the Hong Kong Sculpture Association. She was the founder of the former Hong Kong International Artist Workshop (2004–2010), and previously appeared as a guest host of a weekly art programme on Metro Radio (2014–2020) and as a column writer for Delta Magazine (2014–2020).
